

8th Pacific Symposium on Radical Chemistry (PSRC-8)

Sponsorship Package Invitations

The Pacific Symposium on Radical Chemistry represents an important platform for announcing and discussing advances in our understanding of the chemistry of free radicals. The Symposium, which runs every two years, is one of the three major international meetings on radical chemistry (the other two being the International Symposium on Organic Free Radicals and the EUCHEM Conference on Free Radical Chemistry). PSRC-8 in Brisbane will follow the highly successful PSRC-7 meeting that was held in Singapore in 2015. Previous, equally successful, symposia have been held in Vancouver (2013), Shirahama (2011), Shanghai (2009), Heron Island (2007), Daejeon (2006), and Kanazawa (2003).

The symposium will cover all aspects of free radical chemistry and will bring together industrial and academic chemists from all over the world to report their latest discoveries in the fields of synthetic radical reactions, radical polymerizations, mechanistic insights into important radical reactions, new radical-based functional molecules and materials, as well as all aspects of radicals impacting in biology and medicine. The scientific program of PSRC-8 will include plenary lectures and invited lectures as well as poster sessions.

If you would like to negotiate a sponsorship package to meet your specific interests or corporate requirements, or you are interested in one of the mentioned sponsorship categories, please contact QUT Conferences to discuss your requirements.

Please send enquiries to: QUT Conferences on 07 3138 9357 or psrc2017@qut.edu.au
